

34th ISTS, Last Chance Call for Post-deadline Abstract Submission

- The post-deadline Abstract Submission is a system for accepting presentations on topics even after the regular deadline for abstract submission. For example, please use it to present newly obtained results after the regular deadline.

- When applying, please specify the above reasons and send the abstract to the ISTS Secretariat (secretariat@ists.ne.jp). The deadline for Post-deadline Abstract Submission is the April 30th, 2023. The ISTS Program Committee will review the content of your application and determine if it can be accepted.

- As a general rule, post-deadline presentations are poster presentations. However, if there is room in the program, oral presentations may be possible. When applying, please let us know the presentation format you prefer.
